**Why Edit Your Photos in Photoshop?* Most of the people who purchase a digital camera expect that the images it makes will be processed with a little image-editing software before they're ready to use. After all, most do-it-yourself websites provide plenty of image editing and enhancement tutorials, which means that when you go online, you'll usually find images edited with photo editing programs such as Photoshop. The truth is that you should edit your images as well. By choosing which quality setting your camera selects, and the setting that the camera will default to (often the lowest quality setting), you can often lower the file size of your photos. Even if you're using the lowest quality setting (which often just means that your camera doesn't specify a quality setting), you should still go into photo-editing software and edit your photos. ## more basic graphic editing tool. The version on this list is the one that was released in 2017. I used Photoshop Elements for the majority of my design work. It is a much simpler and easier alternative to Photoshop. I also used Photoshop Elements to make icon sets. For all of my design work, Elements is what I use. Elements offers quick, easy and free graphic design work. You can use it to make icon sets, edit stock photos and edit images of people. There is a free version of Photoshop Elements that you can use to design for free. You can learn more about Photoshop Elements.

A young boy, just 7 years old, has cancer. His sister imagines him as a “piggy man”, flying in the sky with his piggy tail swishing through the air. This family is blessed with strength, love, prayer, and faith.

Their son is in cancer’s way but God is working out a plan through them. The name of their blog is from a precious Bible verse, Jeremiah 29:11. We had the honor of serving during the Easter season at the local school, volunteering to help at the Easter egg hunt, and we even attended the children's Easter church service. What a great way to remember Jesus, at this tender age. I can only imagine what this child will remember about our visit. His big sister is even helping set up the tables for the visit. A gift given. As life passes, the children of this world are growing and learning so much about life. It is a gift to be a part of the life of a child as they express their love of Jesus. I have this vision of children, all over the world, sitting at this table, talking about love, faith, hope, and God. They are talking about God with their family. A shared love of Jesus doesn't mean that their lives become the same. The goal of this visit was not to build a relationship between us, but to give God's love to them. What are your hopes and prayers for these children, the next generation? What are your hopes and prayers for us, our children? Who was the man that Jesus did all that? I knew him when he showed up, before he grew, only to serve for our benefit. Which is your man?

Jesus. He was our man. He was the man who was in the Bible and I have prayed to and given God the honor of knowing his plans. I get caught up in my own plans, and seek to end or change the plans of Jesus so that I can accomplish my own means. What is your man? What are you waiting for? Are you willing to have your plans changed? Are you truly willing to be used by God? You never know what God might do in this next life to bring together you and your man, in the end.
